

Rural Prosperity Nebraska

Impact At-A-Glance

In 2023 over 1,500 entrepreneurs applied to start a business in Nebraska. Rural Prosperity Nebraska is a resource that helps communities create and expand their entrepreneurial ecosystems.

Of Nebraska's 3,000+ childcare centers, Our Place in Hastings is unique—it provides care for special needs teens. Founded by Adeline Johnson for her daughter, Zoe, the center opened in the basement of a local church but soon outgrew its space. Then Johnson turned to Rural Prosperity Nebraska's grant-funded eCommunities team. The team helped Johnson secure a larger stand-alone building for Our Place, and open the Freedom Factory consignment store, which sells crafts made by the teens. The center thrives on donations, but all profits from the store go to the teens.

“Entrepreneur-led development builds community capacity for entrepreneurs and community development. Human talent is the building block of today’s successful economies and communities.”

Leadership Chautauqua Re-envision Community Leadership Development

- 120 Nebraska community leaders gathered for a grant-funded Chautauqua to identify actionable opportunities for community leadership development change.
- The findings of the Chautauqua will further research on community leadership development and practice in Nebraska.

NERFSI's expertise secured USDA grant support to create the six-state Heartland Regional Food Business Center. The Center provides technical and financial assistance to farm and food enterprises, and network coordination to bring healthy and fresh local foods to market and dinner tables.
